Dear Friend,

The Access to Justice Campaign gives low-income people in Charlotte access to the justice system through the legal work of Legal Services of Southern Piedmont (LSSP) and Legal Aid of North Carolina (LANC).

Each of these agencies is committed to serving the civil legal needs of the more than 87,000 adults and children living in poverty here in our own community. They help families in need of assistance with legal issues such as domestic violence, unsafe housing conditions, consumer fraud, eviction, foreclosure and denial of benefits, including Medicaid and Medicare.

These agencies are partners in the 2007-2008 Access to Justice Campaign to raise funds to support essential services. Your donation to the Access to Justice Campaign is vital to the work of these agencies. Their collaborative projects, network of volunteer attorneys, and specialized expertise leverage your donation to serve the greatest number of individuals and families in need.

This year, we are determined to raise $360,000 in the Campaign with at least 600 attorneys participating. We can meet this critical goal because attorneys like you take seriously the admonitions of our Bar's Rule of Professional Conduct that "every lawyer" support efforts to make legal services available to those who can't otherwise afford those services. Because you have demonstrated such outstanding past support for the Access to Justice Campaign, we ask you to please consider a leadership gift; a campaign volunteer will contact you in the next few weeks about providing a leadership donation to this year's campaign. We hope that you will be a Partner in Justice once again and help continue this important work with as generous a gift as possible. If you give $500 or more by November 15th, your generosity will be recognized in an insert in the Campaign mailing to the entire Bar. Thank you again for your support of this campaign and these agencies.

Sincerely,
